About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

NOTE BY T.T.—Recently we reported some experiences of Mrs. Daisy M. Seright, president of The Register, who has been visiting relatives in California. Today Mrs. Seright writes of some additional things of interest she has seen.

A trip through a Los Angeles bakery, which is noted for its charitable work and its employee relations, was one of the highlights of our visit. Helm's Bakery has periodic open houses, inviting visitors to have lunch and tour the plant. They charge one dollar for the lunch, but this fund is all turned over to local charities.

Since the program has been inaugurated, they have had approximately 130,000 visitors, so have turned over that many dollars to charity. The visit we made was sponsored by the Woman's club of San Pedro, and the fund went to the charitable work of that particular club.

The bakery makes about 100,000 loaves of bread daily in addition to cakes, cookies, doughnuts, coffee cakes and other pastries. They sell their products direct to homes, their trucks having chimes which notify housewives of their approach.

The bakery company is noted for good employee relations, including good working conditions, health programs and retirement plans.

After lunch, we took an hour tour of the plant, then returned to their lovely host house where we were given door prizes and a card for each to exchange for a loaf of bread from any of their drivers.

One Sunday, February 16, I went to Long Beach to spend the day with friends with whom I had become acquainted on former visits. I went to the Dr. Herbert L. Thompson home and Mrs. Thompson took me up to eastern Los Angeles where we visited Dr. Thompson in a nursing home. His general health is very good, but he requires nursing attention not available in his home.

Mrs. Thompson is employed in Long Beach as assistant manager of Morgan Hall, a large building with about 20 rooms of sizes to accommodate various gatherings up to 600. Some of the rooms are for small parties, such as wedding

Dulles' Warning Touches Off New Aid Demands by SEATO Nations

MANILA — A warning by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today that the Communists in Asia were plotting new aggression in Asia touched off demands by SEATO's Asian members for more economic aid to block the Red menace.

The Philippines, Pakistan and Thailand raised the demands for aid at the afternoon session of the SEATO foreign ministers meeting. They called for a sustained and realistic economic aid scheme for the have-nots of Asia who might fall prey to communism.

Dulles spoke at the opening session this morning. He said the intensification of Communist propaganda charges against SEATO could indicate new plans "which the Communist rulers fear SEATO might block."

Dulles came back at the afternoon session after the economic aid issue was raised to point out that the United States in the last four years had assisted member nations in the area with hundreds of millions of dollars worth of such aid.

He said that in the last year alone the United States has given 600 million dollars in economic assistance to three SEATO member countries of the area—the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan—and to the three protocol countries—South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

Dulles emphasized that this was economic help and did not include the additional pure military aid given to this area by the United States.

Bomb Threat Follows Vandal Raid in School

INDIANAPOLIS — About 200 parents and faculty members gathered to discuss a $10,000 vandal raid at North Central High School Monday when an anonymous caller telephoned a bomb threat.

The school's 1,000 pupils had been given the day off while maintenance crews cleared away the debris from the new $3,500,000 building.

Vandals entered the school Sunday night and used axes to break windows, slash school bus tires, batter furniture and typewriters, chop holes in cafeteria refrigerators, break expensive laboratory equipment and musical instruments and destroy books.

As a parting shot, they turned on fire hoses to flood the library, auditorium and several other rooms before fleeing.

Parents and faculty representatives met Monday afternoon to consider plans for protecting the school, including the hiring of a watchman and the fingerprinting of students.

A short time later, the meeting was interrupted by a caller who warned a bomb had been planted in the building.

No bomb was found in a search of the building.

Bursts Into Flames

AURORA, ILL. — Eighteen children and the driver were burned Monday when a school bus jolted off a rough country road, crashed into a field and burst into flames.

The driver, James Meredith, an eighth grade teacher, smashed open the emergency door. Meredith and passing motorists helped pull the panic-stricken grade school youths from the bus.

Delmar Kreighbaum, a fireman called to the scene, said it was a "scaring sight."

Authorities said the rear emergency door stuck, trapping the screaming children when gasoline flames flashed through the bus.

Rescue Boy, 4, From Tracks; Mother Suicides

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-year-old boy hung by one foot between the ties of an elevated subway platform for five minutes Monday, screaming for his "mommy." She was dead beneath the wheels of a train.

As hundreds watched and prayed in the street 60 feet below, two policemen braced themselves to catch the boy. He was finally pulled to safety at the track level by the train's motorman and a transit policeman. His ankle was bruised, but he was otherwise unharmed.

Police said Mrs. Marie Vitucci, 30, had picked up the youngster, Michael Jr., and deliberately jumped with him into the train's path. On the platform she left packages containing new clothes for her two other children, Lucille, 8, and Christopher, 11.

Mike fell head first between the ties and one foot caught in the structure.

"Mommy! Mommy!" he cried. "Help me!"

His shrieks brought crowds from the stores on the Brooklyn street below and the two officers from their beat.

The youngster was by then under the train, which motorman Matthew Reiss, 42, had been unable to stop in time to avoid the mother. Reiss and transit patrolman John Roselle jumped to the tracks and reached under, working frantically to free the boy without dropping him thru the ties.

Lions, Ladies Visit Telephone Office

A tour of the Harrisburg office of the General Telephone Company of Illinois was the highlight of the Lions Ladies' program held Monday evening.

M. H. "Pusher" Lynch, manager of the local exchange, conducted the Lions and guests through the office, explaining the dial system and demonstrating direct dialing.

Mr. Lynch made a direct dial to the Chicago weather station and the members of the party listened in on the weather forecast. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Doom, who knew a telephone number at a direct dialable point—the home of their daughter in Dallas, Texas—had the opportunity to talk with the family "on the house."

Mr. Lynch also presented the ladies with shopping bags as souvenirs of the tour.

Egyptian Ass'n for Mentally Retarded to Meet at Southern Acres

C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, announced today that a meeting of the Egyptian Association for the Mentally Retarded Children will be held at Southern Acres in Building U4 on March 13 at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Kolstoe, head of the special education department of Southern Illinois University, will be the speaker. The program will be based on a forum held Jan. 18 in Springfield which was headed by Ray Graham.

The polls will be open until 6 p. m.

The gas tank located near the front door ripped open when the bus careened into a concrete culvert, spraying the vehicle with burning fuel. Meredith jumped through the flame-enveloped front door and rushed to the back where he kicked the emergency door off its hinges.

The impact also tore the rear wheels from the bus and it lurched about 50 feet off the road into a field. Meredith said he was traveling at about 30 mph at the time.

Parents lauded Meredith for rescuing their children despite severe burns on his face and head.

Gov't Reports Unemployment At 16-Year High

Martin Says Tax Cut Decision Can Be Delayed for Month

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and congressional leaders of both parties turned thumbs down today on immediate tax cuts to revive the economy. They said a decision on this won't be made until later.

Their parallel disclosures came in the face of a government report that unemployment in February reached a 16-year high of 5,173,000 jobless persons.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) said after a White House economic conference that a decision on whether to cut taxes can be delayed another month, to see whether an upturn develops. The White House said this also is President Eisenhower's view.

At the same time Speaker Sam Rayburn, key figure in Democratic tax strategy, said a tax cut won't help the man with no taxes to pay because he is out of a job. He said "other courses" would put more people to work faster than a reduction in taxes.

Many Plans Ready

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, sponsor of an expanded public works program, said he is against tax cuts "at this time."

Rayburn said Democratic tax writers have conducted tax hearings and readied a number of plans for fast action "if and when" a tax cut is found to be needed. Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said the administration also will call for substantial tax cuts if business doesn't get better.

Rayburn called on the administration to "turn loose" some of the billions he said it already has for spending on approved military and public works projects.

One informant said Democrats in event the administration had called today for immediate tax relief—were prepared to push a program of their own calling for a six or seven billion dollar reduction in both personal and business taxes.

Martin told reporters after today's 2 1/2 hour White House meeting that it was agreed the tax cut

Mamie Leaves For Washington

DENVER — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower left for Washington today in 20 degree weather and light snow.

She boarded the presidential plane, Columbine III, at Lowry Air Force Base for the expected five-hour flight.

"I came to see my mother," Mrs. Eisenhower said, "and that's exactly what I did."

She said her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, appeared to be in good health.

"At least I found her that way when we left," she said.

Mrs. Eisenhower was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore of Washington, and her doctor, Col. Walter Tkach, on the last leg of her vacation trip.

The First Lady came to Denver Sunday after a two-week stay at an Arizona health resort.

Personality or Policy

Editorial By Bruce Blossat

Uncertainty seems to be the order of the day. But among the things that are less uncertain than others is the status of Secretary of Agriculture Benson in President Eisenhower's eyes. Like, at his recent press conference, made it plain he is unlikely to yield to the clamor for Benson's scalp.

Admittedly the opposition is more vocal and better organized than it has ever been. And the pressure from a group of House Republicans takes a most acute form: a flat warning that failure to oust the secretary may cost the GOP 25 farm-belt seats in the fall elections.

But Mr. Eisenhower has heard the basic complaint—that Benson is vehemently disapproved by most farmers—for several years now. He has never allowed it to sway his judgment that Benson is a man of courage and principle doing a sound job for American agriculture.

To the extent that they see him as both architect and symbol of farm policies they find to be unpopular, Benson's opponents may be taking a stand they feel makes political sense. They believe that if the symbol is removed, the source of the unpopularity will be gone.

It is risky to try to forecast voter behavior, among farmers or anybody else. Possibly many farmers who normally incline toward the GOP side would indeed be impressed by Benson's removal, and stay in or return to the fold.

Yet some observers are questioning how deep and lasting their satisfaction could be if that objective were attained.

For "Benson's policies," including flexible farm price supports, are in fact Mr. Eisenhower's.
There is no indication whatsoever that any successor he might name to the agriculture post would be permitted to depart from the course Benson has charted.

If it is really policy, and not personality, that the farmers object to, then their unhappiness would seem likely to continue either until a new administration inaugurates a new policy or Congress develops the votes to override this or a subsequent administration.

Risky Stand

SENATOR KNOWLAND of California hasn't exactly taken himself out of the 1960 race for the Republican presidential nomination. But according to the rules of the political trade union, he's made it tough on himself. He has declared that he likes the man who would be his chief opponent.

As a matter of fact he went further and said he would support Vice President Nixon if he decides not to put in his own bid.

This doesn't leave much time for the senator to develop the necessary full set of prejudices and hostile attitudes should he find himself in a knock-down struggle with Nixon for convention delegates in 1960.

It almost sounds as if Knowland, now seeking the California governorship and voicing his expectation of serving at least a full four-year term in that job if he wins it, had made up his mind to wait until 1964 to try for the bigger prize.

For he must know better than anyone that his kind remarks about Nixon will be tossed at his head like Herb Score's fast ball if he turns critical a year or two hence.

"That'll Be Exactly---the Shirt Off Your Back"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Lyndon Johnson Rushes
Depression Measures Through
The Senate; White House Moves Slowly Toward Depression Remedies; Reserve
Board Helps The Banks.

WASHINGTON. — Contrasting moves to remedy the business slump have been made at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue.
Here are some of them:

At the east end of Pennsylvania Avenue — Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas moved with amazing efficiency to ram a series of public works, housing, highway measures through the Senate. They include:

1. A new housing bill totalling nearly two billion to pump new life into the construction industry. It should become law within a matter of days. Another housing bill will follow shortly.

2. Two resolutions urging speed of civil and military public works. Though a Democratic resolution, 18 Republican senators climbed aboard, 10 of them candidates for re-election.

3. A new speed-up highway bill, which will concentrate highway construction in 13 years instead of more than 20 years as desired by the administration.

4. A farm bill refusing to take Secretary Benson's farm price cuts. This will probably have enough votes to overcome a White House veto.

5. A reclamation bill, though still in Senate committee, will be passed soon.

Johnson, a past master at parliamentary procedure, is determined that most of the above legislation will speed through the Senate within a week or 10 days.
It will be the biggest flip to the over-all national economy this year.

At the west end of Pennsylvania Avenue—things move slowly.
There have been good intentions, considerable groping. The President has indicated the cure to the economy was a matter of renewed buying by the American people. Some of his economic advisers have been concerned that these statements might be too much like those of the last Republican President, Herbert Hoover, uttered on the verge of his depression.

Kindly Sherman Adams has been concerned over pictures published in the New England papers of long lines of unemployed standing in the bitter snowstorm at Biddeford-Saco, Maine, where 30 per cent of the population is out of work. With unemployment compensation exhausted, they are now receiving a relief ration of flour, corn meal, cheese, rice, and powdered milk. Merchants from all over Maine, plus other parts of New England, contributed fish, poultry, macaroni. Finally the Portland good neighbor committee got in touch with Sherman Adams. He promised to find some additional federal food from Secretary Benson's larder—if possible, frozen hamburger, eggs, and butter.

Also at the White House end of Pennsylvania Avenue, the Federal Reserve Board gave the banks a green light to expand their loans $3,000,000,000 in order to inject new life into business. This was done by lowering the reserve requirement, however, the Federal Reserve enriched the banks by $550,000,000 that could have been made available to the government.

Such are the contrasting moves at each end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

BRUCKER'S RED FACE

Reddest face in Washington last week was that of Secretary of the Army Brucker. Attending a reception for the West German minister of defense, Franz Josef Strauss, Brucker announced:
"The second United States satellite is feeling good and going strong. I'm going to hurry back to the telecom room and track its progress.

"I hope the secretary of the Army still tracking," remarked one guest later. "If so, he won't be home to dinner."

WHICH IS SOCIALISM?

In Nashville this week, Vanderbilt University's vice chancellor John Stambaugh invited Eisenhower's joint federal-state action committee to campaign for "more local responsibility" and less federal money for slum clearance, vocational education, and other welfare projects.

This put Chancellor Stambaugh an Eisenhower consultant, in a unique and somewhat conflicting position. On the one hand, he preached slashes in federal aid.
Yet on the other hand, more federal funds flowed into his own university.

After Stambaugh took office as vice chancellor in 1956, the federal treasury suddenly seemed to open up to Vanderbilt. The Housing and Home Finance Administration in Washington came through with a $2,000,000 loan to construct a men's dormitory on the Vanderbilt campus. The public health service in Washington awarded two contracts to Vanderbilt for air-pollution studies. These have already brought $103,400 to the university with a promise of more to come.

Now the Veterans Administration is erecting a $15,000,000 veterans hospital in Nashville. If the site turns out to be close to the Vanderbilt campus, nobody will be surprised.

It is no secret that Stambaugh's position as a "special consultant" to President Eisenhower has helped attract federal funds to Vanderbilt. Some officials wonder whether federal handouts for men's dorms at Vanderbilt are any less socialistic than federal aid for better housing and slum clearance.

Note—The joint federal-state action committee, of which Stambaugh is a member, was set up

Southern Illinois Beauty Scenes Shown at Harrisburg Woman's Club

Many exciting scenes from Southern Illinois beauty spots and scenic wonders were shown in large prints, possibly 3x5 feet in dimension, color slides and 3-D color slides, many of them made by the exhibitor, William H. Farley, at the meeting of the Harrisburg Woman's club in the public library clubroom Monday afternoon. Well known to this community are "Old Stone Face," "Cave-in-Rock," "Pounds Hollow Lake" and the "Rose Hotel" at Elizabethtown, but there were many scenes included of less known places, "Indian Kitchen," "7 Stone Forts" and what he called "Do it yourself-caves," small but picturesque caves that may be safely explored without fear of being lost, and by children. The beauty of these and the Indian-dwelling caves are no less exciting for their modest size.

The atmosphere for this important "Conservation" meeting was set with a solo, "God Paints a Picture," by Mrs. Larry Barnhill, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hudson Mudge, and the devotion from Genesis 1, "The Creation," by Mrs. J. B. Clark. Mrs. Ray Johnson, program chairman, introduced the speaker and Mrs. R. C. Davenport led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Mr. Farley closed his narrated show of pictures and slides with the introduction of Mr. Parrish, Pontiac, who showed some chrome postcards of other scenic sections of the country and said that his company, the L. L. Cook company of Pontiac, is preparing to make some cards of this area and he and Mr. Farley are considering ways of getting them distributed throughout the country, to advertise the potential of southern Illinois for the tourist and vacationing families.

During the business meeting, the report of the nominating committee was read by the chairman, Mrs. L. I. Webb, and the following names were accepted as follows: Mrs. Ray Johnson, president; Mrs. L. M. Hancock, vice-president; Mrs. D. H. Hiller, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Walter Unsell, recording secretary; Mrs. Adolph Smith, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul Hatfield, treasurer; directors at large, Mrs. W. W. Damron, Mrs. E. Bishop Hill and Mrs. Jacob Myers.

Announcement of important meetings were announced including the board meeting of the 24th district Illinois Federation of Women's clubs at Eldorado Thursday. Members are urged to call Mrs. J. L. Miller today for reservations.

The meeting of the Federated Women's clubs of Saline county on March 24th, was announced and the district convention to be held in Metropolis April 10.

Mrs. M. P. McDonald, Mrs. Charles McKenzie and Mrs. Willard Wiley were hostesses.

District Board E.F.W.C. Meets in Eldorado Thursday

The spring meeting of the 24th District Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will convene at 9:45 a. m. Thursday at the First Methodist church in Eldorado. Registration will start at 9:45 a. m. and luncheon at $1.25 each plate will be served in the dining room of the Calvary Baptist church across the street. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, Eldorado, today, or Mrs. J. L. Miller may take them for Harrisburg club members today.

Mrs. Miller, district president, will preside at the meeting and all chairmen of standing committees will give condensed reports of their achievements.

Seven delegates to the state convention will be elected and Mrs. Miller will bring her report of the March State Board meeting and the Mississippi Valley Conference, attended in Chicago, last week.

Entries in the Vogue Clubwomen's fashion sewing contest will be modeled and judged for the winning entry, to be sent to the state convention.

Miss Ruth Hamilton, president of the Eldorado Woman's club, will extend the welcome and Mrs. Orell Duke, Metropolis, 2nd vice-president of the district, will respond.

Mrs. N. C. Morris, district music chairman will lead the assembly singing and direct the rehearsal and later performance of the district chorus in preparation for the April convention. Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Alta Crawford of the Eldorado club will present special music.

Rev. A. B. Clodfelter will give the invocation. A good attendance of the clubwomen from all of the clubs of the district is urged and expected.

Card of Thanks

ESTES—We wish to thank every one who helped us during the illness and death of our father, Rev. H. W. Estes—especially Rev. Charles Hurt, the First Baptist church of Shawneetown for the beautiful flowers and Mr. Maynard Cannon for the hymns.

The Family.

ADAMSON—We cannot adequately express our thanks to our neighbors and friends for their graciousness following the death of our husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, John Adamson. To thank you enough is beyond our ability. The consoling words of the Rev. William A. Burroughs, the floral offerings, the services of the pallbearers, the beautiful music, the accommodations for out-of-town relatives, the abundant supply of fine food and the dignity of the services of the Gaskins funeral home, have made us all humbly grateful. These kindnesses shall never be forgotten.

THE FIRST SHOOTING
By L. P. HOLMES

XXXXV

A SPOT of color lay at the edge of a jackpine thicket, color once white, but now the gray of a weather-bleached canvas tarpaulin. Under the tarp was a pack, and under the pack the crumpled bulk of a second mule, a dark and drying smear of blood showing on its side where a bullet had entered.

Somewhere not greatly distant, a pack train had been ambushed. This mule, shot through the lungs, had stamped this far before going down, drowning in its own blood. The one back in the water flat, with just as mortal though not so swiftly fatal a wound, had made it a little farther.

Here was a wanton business, shooting pack animals in this way; wanton business by wanton minds, lost and desperate and no longer caring.

Sebastian rode cautiously until the acrid tang of wood smoke struck his nostrils. For a moment he stayed in the saddle, then he swung down, dropped the reins and went ahead on foot.

Abruptly he saw them. Three of them. Ragged, shaggy-headed figures, crouched over a small, smoldering fire, gnawing at greasy chunks of half-cooked bacon. A little way from them a third pack mule lay dead, the load of this one ripped open and a miscellany of food supplies scattered around.

Two of those dark, wild figures, Sebastian knew by sight and name. The third was a Modoc he had never seen before. All three were too intent on their ravenous gobbling of bacon to guess his approach, and he worked up to within 30 yards of them before lifting his rifle to his shoulder and hitting out at them with his harsh call.

"You, Barcho—Black Jim!"

They came up and around like startled animals. The one Sebastian did not recognize recovered first and caught up the rifle lying at his feet. The intent was plain and there could be but one reply. Sebastian shot him to death with the dispassionate detachment of cold necessity.

Barcho and Black Jim had stacked their rifles against a near by tree, and there was no mistaking the desperate purpose in their black, wild eyes. Sebastian swung the lever of his rifle, jacking a fresh shell home.

"You're dead if you try it!"

For a breath they were as taut and dangerous as panthers, eyes glittering. Then, as abruptly as a snuffed flame, all fight went out of them and they hunkered down, side by side, seeming to shrink until they were just a pair of incredibly dirty, half-starved, blank-faced figures.

THEIR guns, and that of the dead Modoc, he beat to uselessness against a tree. He went back after his horse, then began his search. Not far away he found the first sprawled figure, a half-breed packer who had been shot twice and lay as a man asleep, face resting on one doubled-up arm.

Father along was another, a man who had been savagely treated before done to final death.

Provo Holt. Lying dead and disfigured there under the softly stirring, sun-gilded timber.

Sebastian, having known this man so bitterly well in life, recognized him now in the bitterness of violent death.

Sebastian recalled a day at Desolation Flat and the terrified hopelessness of the young squaw and mother who had died there by Provo Holt's gun. Well, he mused bleakly, she was fully avenged now, and by her own kind, which was fitting.

He found two more dead pack mules and located 10 uninjured ones scattered about through the timber, as well as the two saddle mounts Provo Holt and his packer had been using.

He stripped the packs from the sound mules, unsaddled the animals and turned them loose. The packs he stacked about the trunk of a pine, spread and roped down tarpaulins over the pile. The chipmunks were certain to be about their small mischief, and other wild marauders might strike, but Sebastian concluded, it was the best he could do. If Atwood and Carter moved fast enough, they'd be able to salvage the most of it. The mules, while certain to drift some, could be tracked down and rounded up again.

He had more definite use for the two saddle mounts. He tied Barcho into the saddle of one and Black Jim into that of the other, and then, with the two horses following at fast lead, drove on for Linkville.

SPRING at its fullest spread its benevolence over Fort Klamath, and to Connie Ashland it was if prison gates had been opened. Considerable activity held the fort these days, with troops returning from the lava-beds battlefield, now that resistance by the Modoc had been broken and scattered, and with the end of the uneven struggle in sight. Commanding one group of returning troops was Maj. Ross Ashland.

The returning troops brought prisoners with them; dark, ragged figures, moving with the funeral trend of hopelessness.

"You got to feel sorry for the poor devils," Major Ashland said. "No braver battle than theirs was ever fought. Less than 60 of them against all our hundreds. I tell you, Connie, there is little about our victory to take pride in. I'm afraid my sentiments in this affair are pretty much the same as Ward Sebastian's."

Kohler Non-Striker Claims Father's Death Resulted from Beating

WASHINGTON (AP)—A non-striking Kohler Co. worker said today that a beating his 65-year-old father suffered in the early days of the United Auto Workers' marathon strike against the company started a decline in the older man's health that led to his death.

William Bersch Jr., Sheboygan, Wis., testified before the Senate Rackets Committee about a 1954 assault against both him and his father, also a Kohler employee. He said his assailant was John Gunaca, a Michigan UAW employee, but that he could not identify who beat his father.

Gunaca, now living in Detroit, is wanted in Sheboygan, the city where the Kohler plant is located, on charges of assault against both Bersch and his father. Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan has refused efforts by Wisconsin authorities to extradite the union man.

The committee also has summoned Gunaca for questioning. It did so under a special court order that would protect him from arrest while in Washington, thereby keeping Wisconsin authorities from having him arrested while here.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., UAW attorney, has put in the committee's records a certificate signed by the elder Bersch's physician which listed heart trouble as the cause of his death. Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), a committee member, countered with an affidavit, from the doctor who examined the elder Bersch the night of his beating.

Eisenhower, Congress Oppose Tax Cuts Now

decision "could well be delayed for another month."

Expect Spring Upturn

Mitchell disclosed the "if necessary" tax cut plan in a speech at an AFL-CIO economic conference in which George Meany, president of the big union federation, called for immediate tax reductions. The AFL-CIO executive committee will push this and other anti-recession proposals at a meeting with President Eisenhower Thursday.

Martin told White House reporters the President and others at today's legislative conference were optimistic over prospects of employment gains during the next month. He said there normally is a spring upturn in housing, other construction, and consumer buying.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) said in a Senate speech that Congress should give "every consideration" to cutting taxes if necessary. He said Congress cut taxes during recessions in 1949 and 1954 and the result was an economic upturn. He said a tax cut in such cases provides "immediate relief." Carlson said this recession seems to be following the 1949-1954 pattern.

Mitchell confirmed what Vice President Richard M. Nixon had indicated Monday — that the administration prefers across-the-board tax cuts to "massive" federal spending on job-making public works. Nixon had advanced this as his own view. Mitchell said in a speech at an AFL-CIO conference that the plan already is in the works.

"It is ready for immediate use as an additional stimulus to the economy and it will be used if necessary," Mitchell said.

Unemployment Hits Peak

The administration and Congress also are planning expanded public works spending. The general tax cut is still being held in reserve on an "if necessary" basis.

In the same speech Mitchell reported that unemployment has hit a 16-year peak. He rounded it off at 5,200,000, an increase of 700,000 from mid-January to mid-February and two million higher than a year ago.

After citing steps the administration already is taking to fight the recession, Mitchell said details are being worked out for a big tax cut in event the slump "proves more stubborn than is anticipated, or Congress fails to act" swiftly.

"Certainly," Mitchell said, "this is the next big step and is far preferable to massive new public works spending because it puts money in the hands of consumers and investors."

But Mitchell warned against broad spending programs which would not provide jobs immediately. He said a program which would go into high gear in 1959 might do more harm than good because it may compete for workers needed elsewhere.

AFL-CIO President George Meany called for a tax cut, increased defense spending, and improved unemployment benefits as "must" items on labor's legislative program.

The administration also is considering a number of tax actions other than an across-the-board cut.

One highly placed informant said the administration may ask Congress, as a shot in the arm for the depressed automobile industry, to repeal or reduce the excise tax which adds $150 and more to the price of a new car.

This doctor said the man's injuries could have contributed to the heart condition.

Bersch Jr. told the committee his father "worked regularly" until the July 4, 1954, beating. After that, the younger Bersch said, his father worked only two weeks and was hospitalized eight times.

Bersch said his own injuries received from men who attacked him and his father at a gasoline station, did not require hospital attention.

Bersch said he had joined the United Auto Workers Union before the Kohler strike began, and stayed away from his job while the union conducted mass picketing of the plant. But he returned to work after picketing was limited, he said.

The beating took place while he was working part-time at the gasoline station in nearby Sheboygan Falls, he said.

Adamowski Sues Bonding Firms

CHICAGO (AP)—Cook County State's Atty. Benjamin S. Adamowski has filed two suits for $1,807,926 from 18 companies bonding Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen and his predecessor Louis E. Nelson.

Adamowski said that total amount represents losses to the county stemming from "illegal payment for court report and legal publication work not performed and for penalties and interest illegally stricken from tax foreclosure sales and not collected."

Adamowski said in an early phase of investigation of the treasurer's office that "adjustments" on property tax bills over the year may have cost the county more than four million dollars in revenue. A grand jury has been checking on the operations. One indictment charges former Illinois state Rep. Irving Meites with accepting $10,157 for legal publication work never performed.

Iran Shah to Break Up Seven-Year Marriage

TEHRAN (AP)—Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi's divorce from Queen Soraya probably will be announced formally sometime between Thursday and Saturday, informed sources said today.

The break-up of the seven-year, childless marriage was reported imminent after a conference Monday between the Shah and a group of elder statesmen at the imperial palace.

Informed sources said work is now under way on the legal and financial aspects of the separation. The settlement is expected to provide the equivalent of $33,333 for Soraya, with a stipulation that she must never return to Iran.

The crisis was provoked by growing concern in Tehran over the failure of the marriage to produce a male heir to the throne. It is taken for granted here the Shah will marry again.

Soraya is the Shah's second wife. His first marriage to Princess Fawzia, sister of former King Farouk of Egypt, produced only a daughter and it too ended in divorce.

Administration to Ask New Emergency Defense Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration is readying for delivery to Congress soon a new emergency defense money request totalling at least $1,270,000,000.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy indicated the bill would provide for stepped up production of hydrogen bomb carrying B52s. If approved the measure would push defense spending past the 41-billion dollar mark for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Whiteside to Face Probers Again Tomorrow

Cross Named to Mack's FCC Post By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators of the Federal Communications Commission will question Miami Attorney Thurman A. Whiteside again tomorrow about his dealings with resigned FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

Whiteside had testified earlier but declined to appear again before the House subcommittee investigating the FCC, on grounds he had been summoned by a federal grand jury which also is studying FCC affairs. But the Justice Department arranged for the jury to release him as a witness and free him for House questioning.

State Department Communications expert John S. Cross was named Monday to succeed Mack. Cross disclosed that he had been a contender three years ago for the job but lost out to Mack.

After his nomination Monday by President Eisenhower, Cross said his conception of an FCC member's duty was to dole out radio and TV licenses for the public benefit. He said that as a career government employee, he had no former business connections which might influence his decisions.

Nominee a Democrat

The new nominee, a Democrat like Mack, must be confirmed by the Senate. The President had to turn to a Democrat because the seven-member FCC already has its full legal complement of four Republicans.

Harris said Cross is "a good man." He said he and other members of the Arkansas congressional delegation recommended Cross for the post three years ago. He added that Cross would "inject some very forceful and independent judgment within the FCC."

Reps. Morgan M. Moulder (D-Mo.) and John B. Bennett (R-Mich.), members of the Harris subcommittee, said the Senate should "carefully scrutinize" Cross' qualifications.

Cross, 53, whose legal residence is in Arkansas, is a career government official. He has served as an Interior Department engineer, a Navy captain in World War II, and a State Department communications expert since 1947.

At present he is assistant chief of the department's telecommunications division. He was nominated to serve out the unexpired portion of Mack's seven-year FCC term, until July 1, 1962.

Russia Steps Up Construction Of Missile Bases

LONDON (AP)—Russia is stepping up construction of intermediate range ballistic missile bases along the Baltic coast, diplomatic dispatches reported today.

The reports said a score of bases either were already built or were nearing completion along the coast of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania between Russia and the Polish border.

Wholesale evacuations have been carried out in the base areas and large regions have been closed to travel. The Soviets have used the Baltic states for several years as the site of military strong-points. Important naval and submarine bases are located there.

The new intermediate range ballistic missiles bases appeared to be aimed at Britain, with the Scandinavian countries also conveniently covered.

Brilliant Flash Of Light Startles Chicago Residents

CHICAGO (AP)—A brilliant flash of light startled Chicagoans early today.

Hundreds of excited persons called police in Chicago and as far west as suburban River Grove to report the strange light.

An American Airlines pilot said he saw the flash as he brought a plane down for a landing at Midway Airport.

Detective John Crane said that from his South Side location "it looked like a giant flash bulb going off in the sky."

Police said after a checkup that he flash apparently resulted when a power switch blew out on a pole on the Southwest Side.

"It was quite bright," a spokesman for Commonwealth Edison Co. said.

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Four persons died on southern Illinois highways in February, two of them in the same accident in Seline County. Perry and Williamson counties had single fatalities.

Du Quoin State Police District 13 said the February death toll was three less than the average for the month since 1950.

State police investigated 115 accidents during the month. Jefferson County was high with 16 and Jackson County had 15. Hardin County had none.

groups. Caterers will serve practically any menu from light lunches to formal dinners.

In the late afternoon several Long Beach friends called to visit at the Thompson home.

That evening we received a call telling us of the death of a good friend Tom Noland at Lone Pine. He had been a commander in the U. S. Navy, in charge of a submarine guarding the west coast. Military funeral services were held and he was eligible for burial at Arlington National Cemetery.

We left Monday for Lone Pine, driving up through the valley. Just south of Lone Pine we passed an almost dry lake from which soda ash is removed commercially.

This was near Cartago where my brother worked when he first came to California, and where my mother and father came when they first arrived in this area.

Almost all of this valley is now owned by the City of Los Angeles, and dams on the river collect a part of the city water supply. Water is moved by viaducts to Lake Haiwee, formed by Haiwee dam in northern Los Angeles.

About five miles west of Lone Pine we saw snow capped Mt. Whitney, which at 14,495 feet, is the highest point in the United States. Snow can be seen on the mountain at all times.

We were guests of Mrs. Spanehauer who lives on a 2,500 acre ranch—one of the spots not sold to the City of Los Angeles. Her husband, who died a few months ago, farmed and raised white face cattle. During the summer months they had to take 500 cattle up in the mountains for grazing. The Los Angeles restrictions on the area would not permit more than 500 cattle, so the others had to be marketed.

Local men in this area all wore the traditional Levis, large hats and boots.

Tom Noland Jr., son of our deceased friend, is the son-in-law of Mrs. Spanehauer, and he will now assist her in the management of the ranch. His wife will also be of assistance, as she is a college graduate in animal husbandry.

Mr. Spanehauer for a long period had provided arrangements for movie companies making pictures in the locality. He furnished horses and secured local help in building sets, and directed preparation of food which was sent by truck or plane into the areas where the pictures were made.

The local motels, furnishing accommodations ordinarily for hunters and fishermen visiting the area, flourished during the times the movies were being made.

House Group Moves to Speed Public Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee moved Monday to speed up construction of post offices and other public federal buildings.

Subcommittee members, repudiating the administration's lease-purchase program for such construction work, were understood to have recommended a direct appropriation of 189 million dollars to pay for the work outright.

Subcommittee sources said the action was taken after members studied a comptroller general's report showing that the lease-purchase program would cost millions of dollars more than if the federal government simply builds its own buildings.

CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

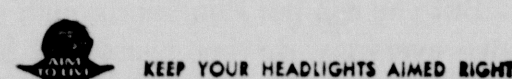

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world — the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make the test harder, officials of the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires — no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began — across the blazing Argentine pampas, thrusting boldly into the stone ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 2½ miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet — but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its jet-smooth torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of fantastic grades up to 30 percent. Then a spine-chilling plunge to the Pacific at Chile's great port of Valparaiso, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes — and the engine was never turned off! That's rugged proof-in-action of the great new advances you'll test for yourself the first time you drive a '58 Chevrolet. That's a real thrill — why not discover it this week?

A Maine Advantage
AUGUSTA, Me.—(UP)—Maine forestry commissioner Albert D. Nutting says his "Pine Tree State" has an advantage over the big tree-growing states of the Pacific Northwest. Nutting said Maine has adequate rainfall, but the states in the Pacific Northwest get heavy rainfall only along the coast. Further inland the rainfall is sparser, and it is difficult to get regrowth.

Mt. Vernon-Metropolis Tilt to Open Sectional Play Wednesday

Carrier Mills Will Face West Frankfort Thursday

The Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament will get under way tomorrow night with a first round game at eight o'clock between the Mt. Vernon Rams and the Metropolis Trojans.

Thursday night will find the Saline county entry, the Carrier Mills Wildcats, facing tough West Frankfort.

The winners will meet in the finals Friday night and the champion will enter first round state play at West Frankfort the following week.

Approximately 3,500 seats will be available for the games, with most of them reserved. Principal Eltis F. Henson has announced. Everything this year will be reserved except seats at the north and south ends of the gymnasium. All reserved chairs sold quickly but there are still plenty of reserved bleacher seats selling at 75 cents. General admission tickets, at 75 cents, will be available at the door.

New Pitching Problem for Cincinnati--All Look Good

Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs has a new pitching problem this spring—his hurlers all look good.

It's a mighty big change for the pennant-conscious Tebbetts who last season tore out his hair while inept pitching tore the hearts out of his sluggers. The team finally collapsed in August and was lucky to finish fourth with a staff whose 4.62 earned-run average was the worst in the National League.

But the industrious Cincinnati front office gave Birdie seven new hurlers and a staff totaling 21 flingers this spring.

Harvey Haddix, obtained from the Philadelphia Phillies and Job Purkey, acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates, provided Tebbetts with reason for hope Monday with fine performances in a 5-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics. Earlier, Bill Wight and Jerry Cade, also newcomers to the staff, turned in strong performances.

Seattle Stops Bradley, 80-74

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Seattle University, led by All-America candidate Elgin Baylor, stopped the Bradley Braves, 80-74, Monday night in an intersectional cage battle before 5,700 fans.

The Chieftains swept to a big 49-35 bulge at the half, and then beat off a furious Braves' rally in the second stanza for the win. Baylor grabbed scoring honors with 27 points.

Bradley, the nation's 11th ranked team, came back in the second half with Bobby Joe Mason leading the way. The Braves scored seven straight markers after the intermission and gained the lead at 55-54 with less than seven minutes gone.

The teams saw-sawed until with a little more than five minutes left, Seattle took the lead to stay at 64-63 on a bucket by Baylor. Bradley staged a desperation rally in the closing two minutes, but the Chieftains held off the visitors by controlling the ball.

Mason led Bradley with 18 points, followed by Gene Morse with 15.

be facing a Metropolis outfit that has won '5 and lost 11. The Trojans won their own regional.

A large crowd is expected for the Thursday night meeting of Carrier Mills, which has lost but one game all year while winning 26, and West Frankfort, the champion of the South Seven basketball conference which has won 25 and lost three.

West Frankfort all year has been up around the top in the state ratings and fans from throughout the area will be on hand to witness the battle.

The tournament will be arranged in accordance with the Illinois High School Association regulations. The game officials will be Jim McCoskey of Murphysboro and Joe Prada of East St. Louis. James Beers will be the official timer and Dr. Robert Pulliam the official scorer.

Principal Henson, tournament manager, pointed out to out-of-town people that no special parking area is available but that police will be on hand to direct traffic and assist with parking which is permitted on one side of all streets near the campus.

Smoking rooms and concession stands will be operation for the convenience of the spectators.

"It is our desire to make this tournament as successful and enjoyable as possible to everyone concerned," Mr. Henson stated.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs have selected an all-opponents basketball team and Jay Lovelace, the Carbondale comet, was the unanimous choice as the best player the Harrisburg team faced this season. Lovelace, a senior guard, received 50 votes of a possible 50.

Francis Florian, West Frankfort standout, closely followed Lovelace, receiving 43 votes.

Completing the "first five" were Andy Changnon, Mt. Vernon, 35 votes; Centralia's Rod Linder, 28 votes; Vlado Zavich, West Frankfort, 25 votes.

Others high on the voting list were Vern Rollins, Carrier Mills, 19 votes; Jim Gualdoni and Richard Box, both of Herrin, 17 votes each; Jack Kotter, Mt. Vernon, 12 votes.

Others receiving votes—Gary Tabor of Carrier Mills and Coleman Carrodine of Mt. Vernon, 6 votes each; Willie Williams, Herrin, 5 votes; Leonard Willis, Eldorado, and Jeff Ferguson, Benton, 4 votes each; Jerry Sloan, McLeansboro, 2 tallies and single votes were received by Willie Rogers, Mt. Vernon and Ron Sandusky, McLeansboro.

The group includes 12 seniors, 2 juniors and 3 sophomores.

Paul Miller, HTHS sports writer, pointed out when giving the story to me that the voting took place prior to Thursday, the date of the Harrisburg-Ridgeway semifinal game in the Eldorado regional tourney. At that time the Bull Dogs had not faced Roger Suttner, Ridgeway's scoring and rebounding ace, and he was not considered in the voting.

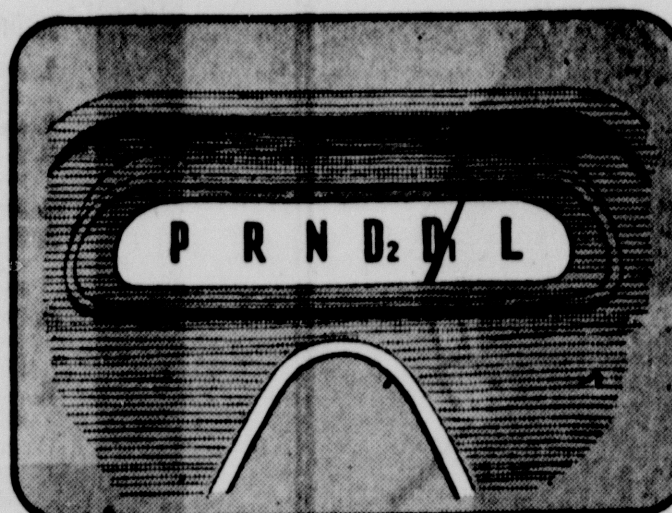

There are 17 players included on the Bull Dogs' all-opponent team and although there may be some better players in southern Illinois, this certainly is an all-star group. Harrisburg faced top teams and the Senators to their first victory of the spring.

The Dodgers rallied for four runs in the eighth inning at the expense of 20-year old rookie Claude Raymond after two other Milwaukee youngsters—Ray Ripelmeyer and Dale Hendrickson—allowed only two runners to reach base in the first five frames.

Hale's Little Bell, 13 inch Beagle owned by John Sisk, Harrisburg, won Best of Opposite Sex to Best of Breed.

More on the subject of all-star basketball players—discussed earlier in this column.

During the Eldorado regional tourney coaches and others got together between games and at the halftimes and discussed basketball in general and star players in particular.

Vern Rollins always came out at the top of the all-star group in the tourney, then the relative merit of Vern and his older brother, Globetrotter Oliver, would be "kicked" around.

Everyone agreed Oliver was the better scorer and had more "showmanship," making him a natural for the Globetrotters.

But by a thin margin, Vern appeared to be the choice as the best all-around performer of the two brothers.

Develop Blood Test That May Detect Active TB

Mrs. Naida Seright Upchurch of the Saline Tuberculosis Association reports today that word has been received that a blood test which may prove practical for the detection of active tuberculosis has been developed by investigators at Northwestern University Medical School, working under a medical research grant from the National Tuberculosis Association. This is one of the research projects aided by the sale of Christmas Seals in Saline county.

Lack of such a test has been a grave handicap in the diagnosis of tuberculosis, but a test has been difficult to devise because of the questionable role of antibodies in tuberculous disease.

The test, to determine antigen-antibody reaction, developed by the Northwestern investigators is known as a double-diffusion precipitation technique. The scientists are Dr. Guy P. Youmans, head of the department of microbiology, and associate, Robert C. Parlett and Caroline Rehr. Dr. William Lester of the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Association Sanatorium, Hinsdale, Illinois, is collaborating in the study. Dr. Youmans is also studying under a grant received from the Illinois Tuberculosis Association Research Fund supported by local county associations in Illinois.

The technique, according to the investigators, is "simple and reliable" and has the advantage that it can be carried out in hospital laboratories with a minimum of equipment.

A disadvantage, they point out, is that the method is "purely qualitative in nature," and provides no measurement of the amount of any of the antibodies detected.

K. Neil Thurmond Demo Candidate For Representative

K. Neil Thurmond

Formal announcement of the candidacy of K. Neil Thurmond of Johnston City for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the 59th Illinois district is made in today's edition of this newspaper.

Mr. Thurmond, 40 years of age, is a business man affiliated with the Thurmond Electric Co. of Johnston City, and a leader in civic affairs in Johnston City, having served as Mayor since 1949.

He is president of the Mayors' Association of Southern Illinois, has been secretary of the Johnston City Chamber of Commerce since 1950 and secretary of the trustees for the Investors' Factory Building group at Johnston City.

He is a past president of the Johnston City Rotary club. Other affiliations include International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers No. 702, First Baptist church, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Williamson County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Thurmond is a veteran of World War II, having served in the U. S. Navy.

Mr. Thurmond, in his announcement, stated:

"For the first time since the creation of the new 59th Representative District, the committee has approved the nomination and attempt to elect two Democratic Representatives from this district to the General Assembly. I am seeking one of these positions, and any support and assistance is gratefully appreciated.

"In my work with the mayors of Johnston City and the other Mayors of this area, I find that regardless of local government location, we are all wards of the state, and any improvement or betterment we may seek for ourselves must first be originated and permitted by the State.

"I favor reorganization of our structure on a more equitable basis, good schools, more industrial development for this area and all honorable moves for the rights and privileges of our veterans."

Earnings Report Required by Many On Social Security

An annual earnings report must be filed by April 15 by many persons who received monthly social security benefits in 1957. E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg social security office, announced today.

This earnings report is compulsory for all beneficiaries whose earned income was more than $1200 in 1957 and who were under age 72 during any part of the year. Mr. Hill said. Failure to file this report by April 15 may result in a suspension of benefits and a loss of some future benefits. The report form may be obtained upon request to the Harrisburg social security office.

Earnings to be reported include all amounts received for work as an employee and any net earnings from self-employment whether or not such income is covered by the Social Security Act. Income from savings, investments, pensions, rentals or insurance does not count as part of the $1200 earnings allowed.

Mr. Hill pointed out that this report of earnings is not required of disabled persons receiving disability benefits. However, if a disabled person recovers to the point that he can perform some substantial gainful work, that fact must be reported to the social security office.

"We've Turned Professional—Why Don't You?"

"Here's Our First Step—with These Staley Chick Starter Feeds"

In the last two years thousands have proved to themselves that there can be real money in eggs—any year! With the right planning, eggs can be one of the most profitable sources of farm income, with a return for your labor of $2.50 to $3.50 per bird.

Poultry feeding with the Staley PROFESSIONAL Plan takes no more work than before. More than that, it cuts costs. This program can be used whether the flock is 200 or 2,000 or more. Yet you do not have to build your own program the costly trial-and-error way.

This Staley PROFESSIONAL Plan has been pre-proved all over Mid-America! It is so soundly worked out that even the first chick starter feeds play a part in securing a better profit in final egg production. That's why people who have seen its extra profit and easier operation, say, "We've turned professional—why don't you?"

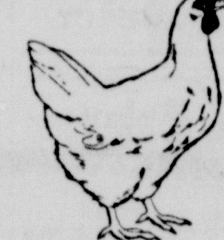

Prove the Difference with this Two-Step Starting Program

Start your chicks the Professional way. The first 10 days your chicks go on Staley Chick Spicer Atoms (only 25 lbs. per 100 birds). Spicer Atoms are the sensational "pre-starter and stress" feed. They are so powerfully fortified with antibiotics and important chick growth factors that they even clean out diseases that may have started before you receive your chicks.

At the end of the 10-day "Spicer start" switch them to Staley Chick Atoms. This chick starter feed is so effective it made possible the pioneer guarantee of 100% livability. By the end of 7 weeks, you should see so much faster gain, such an increase in livability, you'll be convinced that "turning professional" is the surest way to real money in eggs.

This 21-Week Plan Guarantees 100% Livability, Improves Growth and Egg Production

Here's what makes this plan a truly Professional program. You are not just buying one feed at a time from one week to the next. You're planning your profits all the way from the hatchery to the end of the laying period. What you feed baby chicks in their first days affects their laying power a year later.

After 7 weeks on Chick Spicer Atoms and Chick Atoms, your chicks go on Staley Grower Atoms (50-50 with grain) to provide the nutrition that fills out frames, builds resistance and stamina.

From 14th to 21st week, prepare pullets to be high-production layers. Staley Pullet Atoms (also fed 50-50 with grain) provide the elements needed for strong, organic development, ample stamina against strains of early laying.

Professionally planned laying capacity. Chicks fed out this way are ready to lay earlier, lay fewer penalty eggs, maintain ample egg production on Staley's Egg Atoms, the fourth of the famous Staley Professional poultry feeds.

Follow These Steps to PROFESSIONAL Poultry Profits:

1. Make it a Mr. and Mrs. operation.
2. Keep poultry records.
3. Start with baby chicks of recognized laying ability.
4. Buy sexed pullets.
5. Plan on flock of 500 birds or more, if you have room.
6. Follow tried and tested feeding program to the letter.
7. Allow plenty of feeding and watering space—increasing as birds get older.
8. House your birds in clean, disinfected house with plenty of floor space and ventilation.
9. Watch temperature.
10. Vaccinate early for infectious diseases.
11. Work out a marketing system for your eggs—produce a quality product and sell on a quality market.

So Effective that Staley Can Guarantee 100% Livability on This Basis:

Staley guarantees this: If you feed your chicks the first 7 weeks on Staley Chick Atoms (preferably with the 10-day Spicer Atoms start), and follow up during the second 7 weeks with Staley Grower Atoms, we will, at the end of 14 weeks, refund the cost of any chick you lose, according to the terms of Staley's written guarantee.

How to Double This Guarantee:

If you want double the cost of any chick you lose, just do this: Instead of entering a claim for any loss at the end of 14 weeks, switch your flock to Staley Pullet Atoms and feed to the end of the 21st week. At that time, if you have any losses to report, turn them in and we will pay you double the full hatchery price for any death losses from the very first day, in accordance with the terms of our written guarantee.
